

If they have previous customers - then they should have a phone number for them. If the banks want to contact them and they have moved or changed their number - good indication that they don't want their junk calls!!!! Leave the NO - CALL list as it is!